the cast

It is that time of year again when we are pleased to present our Youth Workshop production. This is the 12th consecutive year that the Archway Theatre has presented such a production, returning to do 2 one act plays, to show you the audience the talented youngsters at the Archway Theatre. We have had an exciting and interesting year, last August 3 of our youngsters went to the Little Theatre Guild, bi-annual Shakespeare's Globe weekend, and a great time was had by all. Youngsters have been involved in no less than 4 main house productions and took part in the evening presentations showing off our refurbished Millenium and Studio arches. Having an additional performance space means we can now consider more than one production a year and involve the Youth Workshop members more in productions, both on stage and backstage.

This does not mean however that we are changing our ethos; the Junior and Youth Workshop aims will continue to be that we use drama, mime, improvisation and theatre games to provide an environment where children can explore their creative ideas to gain confidence both as an individual and in groups. If they want to take part in productions as a result of the workshop activity then we see that as a bonus and not our raison d'être.

As always we would like to take this opportunity to thank our Leaders, Helpers, Chaperones and Parents for your continued support and assistance during the past Year.

Jacque & Eddie Redfern.
